

Human Resources Department

October 15, 2019

Community Health Division Manager

Johnson County Public Health seeks a Community Health Division Manager to join our leadership team. This position manages the Community Health Needs Assessment and Health Improvement Planning (CHNA/HIP), Communicable Disease / Tuberculosis programs, community based health related prevention programs and assists with Emergency Preparedness. As well as, provides direct oversight to our community health division, secures and administers program related grants and is responsible for the division's budget.

Master's degree in public health, public administration, health education, health promotion, nursing, public health epidemiology, or other related field AND one (1) year supervisory experience in public health or a related field OR a Bachelor's degree in public health, health education, health promotion, nursing, public health epidemiology, or other related field AND three (3) years of experience in public health or closely related field with two (2) years in a supervisory capacity.

Starting annual salary is $75,650 plus excellent benefits. To learn more about this position and to apply, please visit our website, www.johnson-county.com. Applications are accepted through November 3, 2019. Resume and cover letter must be attached to online application.

AA/EOE

